

International Offerings Guided Tour to Graduate Studies in U.S

“...we must no longer consider ourselves as the citizens of towns or cities, but we must consider ourselves as citizens of the globe.”

Students interested in exploring an overseas academic experience, especially a degree program abroad, are often inundated with information, most of which lacks clarity or reliability. In addition, the application process is complicated and students are left to navigate the process without much help. DPS, Bopal arranged a session for ISC students with the U.S. University delegates to update themselves about various upcoming courses in universities abroad and get their queries answered pertaining to admissions, scholarships, visa guidance and amazing study abroad options. St. Thomas University, Nova South-eastern University, Kansas State University, St. Cloud State University & IUPUI visited the campus on 3rd August 2016. The session focused on the various courses and programs offered by U.S. Universities. The resource team briefed the students about the admission procedure and the scholarships offered by U.S. universities. They enlightened students with information about the various requirements and criteria to be fulfilled and looked into, before applying to the universities abroad. Interestingly none of the universities mentioned SAT as a mandatory requisite for admission, rather they specified that SAT or ACT can add a weightage to their admission process and can help them to avail more scholarships. After the presentation, a one to one session was held on their individual stalls by each representative of the universities and where all the queries of the students were answered. The session was very interactive and informative.
